

The Moon Unit Offers its Services to Charity

By Olivia Atkins on 18th May 2016 @Olivia__atkins

Creative services company The Moon Unit vows to donate its services and skills to bolster charity campaigns.

Creative services company The Moon Unit (TMU) has traditionally offered its services for high end, big budget TVC treatments.

Following the success of last year's initiative, TMU has again decided to offer its range of services for free to directors and production companies, who are creating treatments for charities and non-profits in a bid to provide high quality production value to worthwhile causes.

"Depending on availability, we're keen to help out wherever we can... it feels good...to continue reading please subscribe now